OUR ULTIMATE TEAM-BUILDING EXPERIENCE IS BACK!

Winning teams are formed through common hardship in austere environments like the wild through shared adversity, the biggest element missing in today's business environment. 🧗

Join us for a few days exploring Montana's wide-open spaces, through forests to high alpine meadows with iconic vista views of Glacier National Park, Flathead Lake, and the Bob Marshall Wilderness.

Finish your adventure with an exclusive keynote by Mike Sarraille, taking the lessons you learned, and solidifying them, discussing ways to implement them back into your everyday life and organization. 💪

PBR WORLD FINALS

The Men's Journal Everyday Warrior Podcast recently featured an incredible episode with our host Mike Sarraille and guests Julie Sanderson and Dave Batchelor. This episode sheds light on the powerful connection between veterans and the importance of service dogs. Join us in celebrating the efforts of organizations like Patriot Service Dogs, who are saving lives and making a real difference. We encourage you to inform veteran and first responder nonprofits about the Land Rover service awards program. Submitting a video showcasing their purpose, passion, and impact can help them secure funding for their important programs!

OUR LATEST INSIGHTS

The Jedburgh Podcast

Why is it so hard to maintain nutritional discipline? Dr. Mike Roussell explains the mental aspect of nutrition and how cravings and hedonic hunger keep us from staying disciplined. However, he reminds us that proper nutrition can be simple if we commit to it, even if it's not perfect. Listen to his strategy and make a few different decisions to improve your nutrition.
